Endorsed By Both Political Parties.

Good Roads Amendment No. 6 Has the Strong Approval of Both Political Parties and Both Candidates for Governor.

The big job of "Lifting Missouri Out of the Mud" is not a party issue. It has been strongly endorsed in the state platforms of both the Democrats and Republicans. Both Mr. Atkinson and Mr. Hyde have given the Amendment No. 6 their hearty approval and are publicly advising the voters to cast their ballots for this amendment.

This is truly a happy condition. But just as it should be. Every good citizen of Missouri wants to do his part in making it a better state in which to live. This Good Roads Amendment No. 6 and the plan to build a complete system of 365-day roads without one dollar of property tax is entitled to the support of every man, woman and child in the state.

The trucks and autos are providing 90 per cent of the traffic on the roads and thereby require 90 per cent of the cost to provide good roads. Then why not let them bear the burden of building the main state roads. They want to do it. Why not let them?

Vote for Amendment No. 6. To do this cross out the word "NO."

The greatest danger to the Good Roads Amendment is over-confidence by some and lack of information by others. If it fails it will not be due to opposition, but lack of interest by its friends, who would be for it if they only awake to the real importance of the issue. The roads are badly needed; the motor license fees will pay the cost. What objection can be raised. None of real merit. What then is the danger? Indifference and lack of information. Arouse, then, friends of Old Missouri, and help to "Lift her out of the mud" by your vote November 2.

Be Sure to Vote.

The man who does not vote is perhaps not so bad as the man who sells his vote, but he is not much better as a citizen. Good government depends upon good men being nominated for office and good men exercising their right of franchise.

No man can present any valid excuse, other than sickness or similar disaster, for remaining away from the polls. Even if no one of the candidates for any office particularly appeals to him, one must of necessity be better than the others. It is the good citizen's duty to find out which man is the best qualified and vote for him. Not to vote is to permit the vote of the corrupt candidate to top the others. It is

Rockport Department Store

not only a sign of negligence on the part of the qualified voter but a sign of positive disloyalty.

Every reader owes it to himself and herself to vote this fall for every office, from township clerk to president of the United States.
The day may be bad, the roads may be poor; but the government can be good only when good people make it so and keep it so.
There is a certain form of treach-ery which consists of doing nothing. Exercise your franchise or abandon your citizenship. There is no middle ground.—Golden City Herald.

Democratic National Convention Rule.

The two-thirds rule was established by the Democratic national convention in Baltimore in 1832 that nominated Andrew Jackson for a second term.
His running mate was Martin Van Buren of New York. The rule has been famous and inflexible ever since, though efforts have been made to destroy it. Republicans operate under a majority rule. In the Baltimore convention Jackson was nominated on the ninth ballot. His running mate four years before had been John C. Calhoun of South Carolina.

Improved Household Bell.

Three different signal tones from an electric bell of ordinary appearance, calling the householder to the front, rear, or side door, are now made possible by the ingenious device of an Ohio manufacturer. The two electromagnetic coils of the bell have separate armatures, one of which carries the bell clapper, while the other constitutes a buzzer.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Remarkable Swimming Feats.

Capt. Matthew Webb, in 1875, succeeded in swimming from Dover to Calais in 21 hours and 45 minutes.
On September 5 and 6, 1911, Thomas William Burgess, an Englishman residing in Paris, swam from South Fore-land, England, to Le Chatelet, France.
The time was 24 hours and 35 minutes.

Coral.

Genuine coral may be red, pink, white, blue, yellow, green or black, the last being the rarest and most highly prized.

Anger Poison.

"Advancing years have caused me to forego the luxury of temper," a middle-aged woman said. "Be slow to wrath' might well be one's guide at every period of life, but it is absolutely essential in the middle years, when fits of anger set up a positive poison in the system. Twice in the last year I have been made seriously ill by giving way to my temper. Now, for my health's sake, I endeavor to restrain it."—Exchange.

Eat Arsenic With Impunity.

In some parts of Austria, and especially in the hilly country toward Hungary, there exists the extraordinary custom of eating arsenic, one of the most deadly poisons. There, however, the peasants are so accustomed to its use that they are able to take huge quantities without harm, and they assert that the remarkable beauty of their women folk is entirely due to constant drugging with arsenic.

Earthquakes.

The origin of earthquakes has been traced to two principal causes, the first of which is tectonic, and the second volcanic. The former refers to movements in the earth's crust, known as faults, possibly caused by the shrinking of the interior of the earth by reason of cooling.
